

World Book Day at Frewen Prep 2021

Things have certainly been different this year, but one thing that hasn't changed is World Book Day at Frewen Prep, and it remains as exciting as it's ever been. The children arrived (to class, or to a Teams call) dressed as their favourite book character, and we saw some amazing outfits! A big congratulations to Joseph and Seren - also known as Ronald Weasley and Alice in Wonderland - who won the top spots for best costume.

The day started with Mrs Welch welcoming everybody back to another world book day and giving an assembly on some of her favourite books when she was a child, listing off "Mrs Welch's classics". As the day progressed, the children that were in school set off to do a 'read anywhere' photoshoot, out and about in Frewen grounds, and came back with some great photos.

These are some of our favorite 'read anywhere' photos taken around the school. Here we see Sean the snake camouflaged in the bushes, and Archie the tiger on the prowl.

We've also been fortunate enough to be sent some of the lovely work done by the students who couldn't be in school for world book day, including these beautiful pressed-flower bookmarks from Ethan.

We were also sent some photos for the 'read anywhere' challenge from those at home; we had a lot of fun seeing what you had come up with. Thank you to all of you at home who sent in your work. Well done!
